DOL Announces Conference on Federal Occupational Safety and Health Standards

Albert Bryan, Jr., Commissioner of Labor, through the Division of Occupational Safety and Health, would like to inform employers of the following training at no cost to the public.

Conference includes a comprehensive review of hexavalent chromium (Cr(VI)). Understanding is essential for workers who handle pigments containing dry chromate, spray paints and coatings containing chromate, operate chrome plating baths, and weld or cut metals containing chromium, such as stainless steel.

Sponsored by: US Department of Labor, OSHA, Susan Harwood Grant

USVI Department of Labor, VIDOSH

Trainer: Sergio A. Caporali, Ph. D., CSP
